Cornell University Core Values

In 2019, the university adopted a set of core values that will serve as the foundation for a more equitable and inclusive atmosphere for all Cornell campuses.

Purposeful Discovery

We value the process of discovery through learning, teaching, scholarship, and innovation to advance the University's mission, in all cases striving with integrity for excellence and purpose. The search for and the dissemination of knowledge are tightly linked: as A. D. White noted, "The power of discovering truth and the power of imparting it are almost invariably found together."

A Community of Belonging

As a university founded to be a place where "...any person can find instruction...", we value diversity and inclusion, and we strive to be a welcoming, caring, and equitable community where students, faculty, and staff with different backgrounds, perspectives, abilities, and experiences can learn, innovate, and work in an environment of respect, and feel empowered to engage in any community conversation.

Research and Impact - University College London (UCL)

Insights from UCL research address the great challenges facing the world – bringing benefits in health, culture, policy, business and beyond.

Individually and in collaboration, UCL experts develop insights relevant to humanity's major problems. Society reaps many benefits from their excellent research, some of which occur immediately, while others develop over years or generations. In the latest Research Excellence Framework assessment, REF 2021, UCL came second in research power only to Oxford (1st) and we maintained our position as top in the UK for research power in medicine, health and life sciences as well as social sciences. Other UK leaders in research power include Cambridge (3rd), Edinburgh (4th), and Manchester (5th).

The REF is carried out approximately every six to seven years to assess the quality of research across 157 UK universities and to share how this research benefits society both in the UK and globally.

The Cambridge Festival

Our new, interdisciplinary Cambridge Festival (replacing the Cambridge Science Festival and the Cambridge Festival of Ideas) takes place in the Spring of each year. The festival enables researchers from the University, and our partner organisations, to engage with the public through a variety of in-person and digital events & activities.

At the Festival there remains strong and distinct platforms for the sciences and the arts, humanities, and social sciences. And the new festival includes a uniquely Cambridge eclectic mixture of over 350 events and activities: from panel discussions, film premieres, and self-guided walking tours, to 'try this at home' activities for the whole family in our Festival Zine. Topics cover the breadth of Cambridge research and will be presented across the Festival's four themes: Society, Health, Environment and Discovery!

Meet Imperial's 2025 Alumni Award winners

The Distinguished Alumni Award honours alumni who have demonstrated sustained excellence in their personal and professional achievements over the course of their careers. This year's winner is a STEM role model and an inspiration to all. She encourages everyone to find their inner scientist so we can all unite in addressing the challenges of today's world.

Dame Maggie Aderin-Pocock (Physics 1990, PhD Mechanical Engineering 1993) tells young people interested in the sciences and space to "reach for the stars". From undiagnosed dyslexia to a rocky early education, nothing has stopped her from becoming a leading space scientist, science communicator and business founder.

The Alumni Entrepreneur Award recognises motivated self-starters with exceptional drive and leadership. This year's winners have a very different journey but have both made bold decisions to make their company a success.

Alastair Kilgour (MSc Management Science 1981) is the business mind behind Parkwalk Advisors. If you met him, you'd think, from the confidence he exudes, that entrepreneurship is in his DNA. However, it's the result of years of experience at leading financial firms and an attentiveness to what's happening in the world.
